had not the Empress, been absent; the etiquette, much more formal and rigorous at the Court of the St. Petersburg than at any other European Court, precludes the presence of the Empress at the cele-dren; and the august bride, the Grand Duchess Olga, is only the neice of their Imperial Majesties. However, it was First, the august bride and bridegroom are both very young; the bride, eldest daughter of the Grand Duke Constantine and of the Grand Duchess Alexandra, nee Princess of Saxe Altenburg, was born August 22, 1851, consequently she has scarcely entered her seventeenth year. The bridegroom, George I., King of Greece, was born December 24, 1845, therefor he is not yet twenty-two. Very few marriages are recorded where hus band and wife do not make up thirty-nine years together; and the occurrence s still more striking when the young pouses already wear a royal crown.

The nearest instance to it is, I believe, the marriage of her Majesty the Queen with the lamented Prince Albert, who were both twenty-one when they were united. Moreover, the august bridegroom is the second brother to the Czarevna who has won all hearts in her adopted country; therefore the imperial family of Russia is to be united to the royal house of Denmark by another matrimonial of Denmark, the Secretaries of State, the Aides-de-camp Generals and Major Generals of the Emperor and of the Grand Dukes, with their ladies, had oc-to each of them. The gentlemen, in full uniform, occupied the right side of the chapel; the ladies, wearing the national costume, were at the left side. Among the foreign ministers I noticed Sir An-

C. DUCREUX'S PATENT For Instantantous Detachment of Horses from Carriages.

This ingenious and very useful invention, which has been patented in the United States, France and England, is now offered by the subscriber to the pu die, feeling assured they will find it, upon examination, one of the greatest inventions of the age.

Prominentamous its advantages are:
First—The facility with which horses may be harnessed to or unharnessed from a Carriage; also, rendering it unnecessary for the person unharnessing to pass between or behind the horses as is customary, thus avoiding any liability of being kinked.
SECON—In case of a horse falling, he may be loosed from the carriage in one second, without the driver leaving his seat. It is so simple in its operation that a child can work it.

Thire and Greatest—In case of horses taking fright, becomin, unmanag able or running away, the terrible consequences which so frequently follow may all be avoided by this simple application to arriage, as the ho ses can be loosed from the Garriage "in a tentibling," and the Carriage as quickly and saf by stopped.

Mr. C. DUCKEUX gave several public exhibitions. The great favor and praise manifested by the public on these occasions, is one of the evidences of a popular appreciation of its merits.

Terms may be known and orders received for applying the patent to Carriages, or purchase of State
